PROGRAM INFORMATION

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The English Language Institute (ELI) is an intensive English program for students who would like to attend an American university or improve their language skills for business or personal reasons. ELI students are placed in beginner, intermediate, or advanced levels and study grammar/composition, listening/speaking, and reading with highly qualified instructors. Classes meet 4 hours a day or 20 hours a week. Extra services such as activities, trips, holiday parties, and volunteer opportunities put students in contact with American English speakers to make their learning more interesting.

HELPFUL TIPS

As a student at ELI, you should remember these three things:

1. To succeed in this program, a total commitment to English is required. Only by attending all classes and participating in class activities can you expect to reach proficiency in English, which is the key to success in other areas of study as well. Speaking only English in class will help you progress faster.

2. Attending the English Language Institute does not guarantee that you will be accepted into OSU. In order to study at OSU, you must be found admissible based on an evaluation of your academic transcripts as well as your language proficiency.

3. ELI students are subject to the same Code of Conduct as other OSU students. You can find this document online at http://studentconduct.okstate.edu/.

DO...

- Turn off personal electronic devices before class starts (for example--cell phones, i-pods, mp3 players, laptop computers, etc.)
- Bring books, pencils, pens, and paper to class.
- Look at the instructor when he or she is talking.
- Participate actively in class.
- Complete your homework every day.
- Learn instructors' names and use them when you are speaking to them.
- Take restroom breaks between classes.
- Read this handbook!

DON’T...

- Use your cell phone during class. (See the attached ELI Cell Phone Policy for a complete explanation.)
- Speak your native language in class.
- Knock on the door and apologize if you arrive late. Just come in.
- Eat or drink during class.
- Use too much perfume or aftershave (some people have allergies).
- Leave class to use the restroom or take a phone call (see above).
PLACEMENT AND LEVEL CHANGES

In the week before classes, you must come at the scheduled time for a placement test in order to determine your level within the program. ELI uses the Michigan Test; it consists of a listening section and a grammar and usage section. In addition, you will write an essay upon a topic provided to you. The testing takes approximately 2 hours. The ELI Office will notify you of the testing schedule during enrollment.

During the first week of classes, if you feel you have been placed in the wrong level, please speak to an instructor first. He or she will communicate your concerns to the Academic Coordinator. On Thursday of the first week, the instructors and Academic Coordinator will meet and consider level change requests. We will take into account your performance in class so far as well as your placement test results. The decision made by the program instructors and Academic Coordinator is final. You will be informed of the decision in your case on Friday of the first week of class.

ABSENCES AND TARDIES

In order to improve your language skills, you must attend class regularly. A record of all absences will be kept for each student. If a student misses class for any reason, that absence will be noted on the student’s record. Three tardies (late arrivals) are equal to one absence. NO ABSENCES ARE EXCUSED ABSENCES.

Full time students are allowed to miss up to 16 classes (hours) in an 8-week session with written warning letters reviewed with a student when they reach 8, 12, and 14 absences. The student’s sponsor or scholarship agency, if applicable, will receive a copy of the warning letters given at 12 and 14 absences. If a student misses 16 classes (hours), a letter of suspension will be sent to the student, the student’s sponsor, and appropriate university officials.

The ELI attendance policy is strict. You are here to study English, after all. To repeat: if you exceed the number of allowable absences, you will be suspended from the Institute and will risk deportation by US Immigration officials.
MAKING A STRONG EFFORT

ELI students must make a strong effort in their classes and follow OSU rules and regulations. Behaviors such as talking in class, using a cellphone, smoking, cheating, sleeping in class, not prepared for class, eating or drinking in class, and other patterns that violate the participation policy will result in a participation warning. Behaviors that continue after a participation warning has been given will result in probation and then suspension.

The ELI participation policy is strict because students who do not work hard have a negative effect on everyone in the class. To repeat: if you do not work hard, you will be suspended from the Institute and will risk deportation by US Immigration officials.

APPEALING A SUSPENSION

Students may appeal a suspension; in this case the appeal must be submitted in writing within 24 hours of the suspension. Once an appeal request has been received, an three-member committee will be formed to meet with the student and review any documents and instructor comments. The committee will then recommend if the suspensión should be upheld, modified, or reversed to the ELI Director who will make a final decisió on the appeal. Students must continue to attend clases and have no further behavioral issues while waiting for the outcome of the appeal.

In the case of suspension, the student will not be allowed to continue taking classes or permitted to take the institutional TOEFL exam administered by ELI at the end of the session. In addition, the student will not receive the official certificate issued by ELI to those students who complete the course. A notation of these actions will also be made on the student’s progress report, which serves as the official transcript of ELI.

REPEATING LEVELS

Failing at ELI is defined as receiving a grade lower than the required GPA. If you receive a low GPA (Grade Point Average), you will have to repeat your current level. This option is open only to those with no disciplinary or attendance issues. You may not repeat a level more than once, unless you meet two strict conditions: 1. ELI instructors are unanimous in supporting your return, based upon your work ethics, your attitude, and their evaluation of your chance of success; and 2. an excellent attendance record. All decisions in such cases are made by ELI instructors and are final. Therefore, if you repeat a level and do not pass, and fail to meet the conditions described above, you will have to leave ELI.
TUITION

Your ELI tuition will be billed through the Bursar’s Office along with your housing and other OSU expenses and fees. Your bursar bill must be paid by the 15th of every month. Students who have not paid ELI tuition, fees, and insurance by the end of week 5 of each session will not be allowed to attend class; absences will count for any missing classes. At the end of the semester, all charges must be paid before you can receive your grade report and TOEFL score (if appropriate).

How to Pay Your ELI Tuition/Fees:

Option #1: Pay in person

Go to the Bursar’s Office in the Student Union, Room 113.
Take your OSU ID card with you.
They will tell you the amount that you need to pay.
You can pay with cash, money order, or a check at the Bursar’s Office.

Option #2: Pay on-line

This method allows you to pay with a web check or a credit card. (Your O-Key account must be activated to use this method.) A minimum charge will be added if you choose to pay this way.
To see what has been charged to your Bursar account, on the internet, go to http://bursar.okstate.edu/
Click on “View Billing Statement”.
Type in your OKEY userID and password.
Click on “Billing Statements”.
Click on “View Bill”.
To make a payment, click on “Payment Methods” on the left side of the screen. This explains all the different ways you can pay.

You should check your Bursar account every month. If you do not make payments on time, you may be charged a late fee on the balance due each month. It is your responsibility to make sure your payments are made on time.
TRANSFERRING TO OSU

Being admitted to ELI does not mean you have been admitted to OSU. In order to gain admission to the university, prospective students need to complete the separate OSU online undergraduate or graduate application process. The Institute's Student Services Coordinator can help you with this process.

Concerning English proficiency, the requirements are as follows:

Undergraduate Admissions
- General Admission Requirement
  - TOEFL iBT: 61+; IELTS: 5.5+; TOEFL PBT: 500+; TOEFL ITP: 500+*

- Alternative Admission Requirement
  - TOEFL iBT: 48+; IELTS: 5.0+; TOEFL PBT 460+; TOEFL ITP 460+*
    - SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF THE ELI PROGRAM

Graduate Admissions
- General Admission Requirement
  - TOEFL iBT: 79+; IELTS: 6.5+; TOEFL PBT 550+; TOEFL ITP 550+*
    - Some departments (such as English) require considerably higher scores.

- Alternative Admission Requirement
  - TOEFL iBT: 61+; IELTS: 5.5+; TOEFL PBT: 500+; TOEFL ITP: 500+*
    - Some departments (such as English) require considerably higher scores.
    - SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF THE ELI PROGRAM
      - A 2nd TOEFL ITP 500+ score*

Please note the following:

- *Only TOEFL ITP exams administered at Oklahoma State University’s English Language Institute are accepted for admission decisions.

- Successful completion of the ELI program is completion of 16 weeks of intensive English study at the advanced level with an overall GPA of 75% or higher and no individual grade lower than 70%.

TOEFL

ELI provides a TOEFL ITP exams each session. Internet-based (iBT) TOEFLs are also available from the Testing Center on campus (but must be paid for by the student). An elective TOEFL and/or IELTS Preparation Course is offered with a minimum of 8 registered students per section.
CULTURAL ENRICHMENT TRIPS

During the semester, we feature events such as potluck dinners, parties, bowling, etc. and provide volunteer opportunities designed to give you a chance to practice your English. Also, every semester ELI takes students on one or more short trips to broaden your knowledge of regional and U.S. culture. These trips are included in your tuition costs. Instructors and/or staff members accompany students on all trips.

ELI BULLETIN BOARD

The ELI Bulletin Board is located on third floor in the Wes Watkins Center. Information about extracurricular activities is posted there regularly: be sure to check it as you walk by.

OSU “OKEY” ACCOUNT

When you come to the ELI office to enroll, our staff will inform IT Management who will send you an email with instructions on how to activate your account. Please make sure to write down your password and username during this process.

After you have activated your account, go to 412 Classroom Building where your picture will be taken, and your card issued. Your OSU ID card provides access to the Colvin Center, the Health Center, campus computer labs, and the Edmon Low Library. Be sure to carry it with you at all times.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (IT) COMPUTER LABS

ELI has a computer lab on the 3rd floor of Wes Watkins Center. In addition, IT provides computing lab facilities in various locations around campus. Your valid OSU ID is needed when entering and exiting the labs, since card-key access is in place at the main entrance. Once you have swiped your OSU ID and entered the lab, simply log on to a computer using your O-Key Login information. If you are a student that is new to the system, you will need to obtain a user ID and password. The computer assistant on duty can help you with this issue and answer any other questions you have. IT labs are located at the following sites:

- CLASSROOM BUILDING, 4TH FLOOR
- BENNETT HALL B19
- KERR-DRUMMOND MEZZANINE
- STUDENT UNION 065
- MATH SCIENCES 108
IMMIGRATION

It is important that you be aware of immigration regulations. United States Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) requires that you keep your passport valid at all times. To extend or renew your passport, contact your country’s consulate or embassy for instructions. The Office of International Students and Scholars (250 Student Union) has lists of addresses and phone numbers of consulates and embassies.

If you hold an F-1 (student) visa, you must be a full-time student, follow ICE regulations, and submit all ICE documents as required. If you follow ICE regulations, you are "in status." If you become "out of status" through suspension or for some other reason, there are significant penalties. Being "out of status" can jeopardize your opportunities for staying and studying in the United States. All students must sign page one of the I-20 or IAP-66 certifying that they have read and agreed to the requirements of their status.

It is your responsibility to know ICE regulations that apply to you and to follow them during your stay in the United States. If you have questions about ICE regulations or if you plan to change schools or degree programs, travel out of the U.S., or accept employment, you should contact the ELI Office or ISS.

HOUSING

Oklahoma State Univeristy requires that all students under the age of 21 are required to live on campus. For more information on exceptions to this policy, please visit https://reslife.okstate.edu/.

On-campus
There are many housing options on campus to choose from: please consult the OSU website for information: www.reslife.okstate.edu/Housing/. Contact ELI if you have any questions.

CAMPUS EVENTS AND CLUBS

OSU features many events during the year: for instance, our Homecoming in October is famous. In fact, it is considered to be the best Homecoming in America! To find out about events on campus, check the calendar on this site: http://calendar.okstate.edu/. You will find many concerts, exhibits, guest speakers, films, and cultural events. Your instructors and the ELI Bulletin Board are also great sources of information about events and activities.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

STUDENT HEALTH CENTER

Located on Farm Road west of Monroe Street, the OSU Student Health Center is available to full-time ELI students (and part-time students who choose to pay the entire Health Center fee). Husbands or wives of students may use the Health Center if they pay a per semester health fee; students' children may not use the Health Center, however. The Center is open from 8:00 to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. You don't have to make an appointment, but you will need your OSU Student ID card. Counseling services are available for students who experience personal or emotional difficulties.

STUDENT HEALTH CENTER: 744-7665
COUNSELING SERVICES: 744-7007

For emergencies, students must go to the Stillwater Medical Center Emergency Room. Do not go to the emergency room for ordinary illnesses.

STILLWATER MEDICAL CENTER

This modern regional medical facility, located at 1323 West 6th, offers many services. Physicians and specialists have offices nearby.

STILLWATER MEDICAL CENTER 372-1480

INSURANCE

Health insurance is now mandatory for all ELI students. The cost varies per semester; it is offered through the university. Updated costs are listed on the ELI website. Information for dependents (spouse, children) can be found on the UnitedHealthcare website. With the passage of the Affordable Care Act, everyone must now have insurance. Sponsored students (only) may sign a waiver form.

THE COLVIN CENTER

With 240,000 square feet of facilities, the Colvin Center provides one of the best university sports, recreation, and fitness buildings in the nation. You can participate in classes and organized teams, use weights and exercise equipment, swim in the outdoor or indoor pool, try the climbing wall, and even receive help in planning your own personal training program.

The Colvin Center fee is optional. If you wish to sign up, please go to the Colvin Center.

SMOKING

In an attempt to make OSU America’s Healthiest Campus, OSU has adopted a tobacco free policy for the entire campus. This means that there is no smoking, vaping, or use of other tobacco products at any place on campus, including inside areas such as dorms, classrooms and offices, and even outdoor areas (for instance, outside the Wes Watkins Center). If you wish to smoke, you must leave the campus. Violators of this policy can be ticketed and fined. If you do smoke in your dorm room or campus apartment, you will be charged a very high fee for the repair of smoke damage.

SAFETY RESOURCES AND INSTRUCTIONS

FIRE!

If a fire occurs while you are in your ELI classes, remember that there are three exits from the second and third floors of the Watkins Center:

1. the enclosed stairway at the north end of the building near the ELI classrooms
2. the enclosed stairway at the east end of the building
3. the central stairway to the lobby

If the fire alarm sounds, leave the building by way of the nearest stairway.

DO NOT USE THE ELEVATOR!

Of course, in the event of smoke and/or flames, detours may be necessary. Therefore, you should be aware of all three exits.
Leave the building as quickly and quietly as possible. Instructors should turn off the lights and close the classroom doors. Once outside, classes should assemble in the parking lot so that instructors can be sure that all students are present. No one should re-enter the building until an all-clear signal is given.

If you are in your home or in another building when a fire occurs, find the nearest exit (door or window) and leave immediately. Do NOT use the elevators. If you are not on the first floor of the building, find the nearest stairway and go to a first floor exit.

TORNADO!

Tornadoes are most common in spring and summer. The path of a tornado is usually only a few hundred yards wide. The destructive funnel travels at a forward rate of 25 to 40 miles an hour, and its force is great enough to destroy buildings, uproot trees, and pick up automobiles. When a tornado strikes, the air is filled with rapidly moving debris which can be extremely dangerous. Most tornadoes travel from southwest to northeast although they can move in any direction. Turn on your TV or check your phone to get weather warnings if there is a storm. Remember that we are located in PAYNE County.

TORNADO WATCH: Conditions are such that a tornado may develop.

TORNADO WARNING: A tornado has been seen in the area and you must take cover.

TAKE-COVER SIGNAL: A three-to-five minute steady blast on the storm siren. This signal will be sounded on the large sirens located on campus and throughout the city of Stillwater.

If the tornado warning siren sounds while you are in class, use the nearest stairs and go directly to the first floor. Do not use the center stairway to the lobby because of the large windows. Once you have reached the bottom of the stairwell, remain there and sit on the floor, placing your head between your knees with your hands over the back of your neck. Remain calm and listen for instructions from ELI staff.

There is a possibility that the building will lose electricity. If the lights go out, do NOT panic. There is an emergency generator to provide lighting during a power outage.
If you are in your home or another building, follow these instructions:

1. Buildings with basements: Go to the basement. If possible, sit on the floor and put your head between your knees with hands over the back of the neck. Stay away from windows and doors.

2. Buildings without basements: Go to an interior hallway or room in the center of the building; get to the lowest floor possible. If unable to reach a hallway, get under a counter, desk or other heavy piece of furniture. If possible, sit on the floor and put your head between your knees with hands across the back of the neck. Stay away from windows or large areas of glass. Avoid auditoriums, gymnasiums, or large stores like Wal-Mart.

3. Living units: If unable to reach a public shelter, find inside shelter in a closet or in a bathroom without windows.

The following buildings will be open to the general public for use as shelters in case of storm activity:

1. Poultry Science
2. The Classroom Building
3. Engineering South
4. Ag. Hall North
5. Ag. Hall East
6. The Student Union
7. Most area churches

If local radio is available, stay tuned to KOSU-FM (91.7 MHz), KSPI-FM (93.7 MHz), KVRO-FM (101.1 MHz), KOSB-FM/Perry (105.1 MHz), or KGFY-FM (105.5 MHz) for further details.

The "ALL CLEAR" signal is given over FM radio and NOT via the storm sirens.

Be sure your family knows what to do in the event that a tornado occurs while you are not home.

If you want to drive in the U.S., you must obtain a driver's license. In order to get your license, you must pass a test. To prepare for the written test, you should study the Oklahoma Driver's Manual, which is available at the Driver's License Bureau, located at 701 E. 12th Street. Copies of the manual are also available at the Tag Agency, located at 702 South Western. When you are ready to take the test, call the Driver's License Bureau at 743-9140 for further instructions.

All car owners are required by law to purchase a minimum amount of insurance. More complete protection is available to those interested. For further information on automobile insurance, contact a staff member in the Office of International Students and Scholars (250 Student Union).

To register your car and buy a tag, go to the Tag Agency. You will need to take your driver's license and your certificate of insurance.

| DRIVER'S LICENSE BUREAU | 743-9140 |
| TAG AGENCY | 624-0200 |

If you plan to park on campus, you must buy a parking permit at the OSU Parking Services, 1006 W. Hall of Fame or online at www.transit.okstate.edu. PLEASE PARK IN THE PROPER LOT. If you park in the staff lots immediately to the east and northeast of Wes Watkins Center, you will be fined and possibly towed.

Oklahoma law requires that the driver and front seat passengers must wear seat belts. Children under 6 years of age or weighing less than 60 pounds (30 kilos) must be in child restraints in the back seat. Violations are punishable by fines.
Please remember that Oklahoma law requires that the driving privilege be revoked (withdrawn) for six months to three years for conviction of any of the following traffic violations:

1. Driving or being in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants.
2. Any felony in which a motor vehicle is used.
3. Failure to stop and render aid if you are a driver involved in a collision resulting in death or personal injury (leaving the scene of a collision/hit-and-run).
4. Perjury or making a false statement under oath to obtain a license or for any other legal matter relating to the ownership or operation of a motor vehicle with any measurable quantity of alcohol.

MOTORCYCLES

Motorcycle riders are subject to the same traffic laws as automobile drivers. In addition, there are special requirements for motorcycle equipment. All of the necessary information regarding these laws and requirements is contained in the driver's manual. Check the requirements for motorcycle insurance.

BICYCLES

Student who have a bicycle should get a parking pass and register their bike with the OSU Parking Office. Note: OrangeRide also provides basic bicycle repair services for personally-owned bicycles.

When riding your bike, ride with the traffic, not against it. Ride in marked bike lanes and bike paths, not on sidewalks or across the grass. Obey all traffic signals and use hand signals. Use bike lights for night riding. Do not wear headphones while riding a bike. Lock your bikes at bike racks, not on posts or trees.

OTHER (IMPORTANT) DETAILS...

ACADEMIC HONESTY

Academic Honesty is an important standard in the university community. It is expected that anytime a student is doing something to earn points for a grade in class (homework, test, etc.); the work is expected to be the result of your work alone, not the combined work or efforts of more than one student.

Academic dishonesty is a very, very serious matter in American universities. The consequences can be severe—from lowering a grade to failing a class, or even being suspended from the university. Students found guilty of academic dishonesty face reprimand, conduct, probation, or suspension. Student will be held accountable for, and face possible disciplinary action, should their behavior fall into one of the following categories:

1. Academic Dishonesty: Behavior in which a deliberately fraudulent misrepresentation is employed in an attempt to gain undeserved credit, either for oneself or for another person. Examples:

   - Plagiarism: using someone else’s words, ideas or data without proper credit.
   - Talking or copying from someone else’s paper during an examination.
   - Using or attempting to use unauthorized information when taking an exam.
   - Working with other students on homework assignments is not always allowed.
   - Submitting work completed by another as your own (reports, drawings, assignments).
   - Knowingly assisting another student in cheating or plagiarizing.
   - Altering or forging a signature on an academic document or altering an official OSU document.
   - Unauthorized advance access to exams.
   - Fraudulent alteration of academic materials.
   - Submitting an assignment using a work of your own that was originally created for another class.
2. Academic Misconduct: Unknowingly allowing other students to see examination answers or to see term projects or papers are possible acts of academic misconduct. Students are required to actively protect their work against misuse by others. Examples:

- Bringing study notes into a closed-book examination.
- Failure to observe strict requirements for the proper identification and citation of sources and supporting ideas in reports and essays.
- Excessive reliance upon and borrowing of the ideas and work of others in a group effort.

Any student found guilty of academic dishonesty or misconduct shall be subject to disciplinary actions. A complete list of sanctions for alleged violations of Academic Integrity can be found at: http://academicintegrity.okstate.edu/doc/aisanctionsprint.pdf

LEGAL RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES at OSU

Remember, you are responsible to follow the OSU Code of Conduct.

Drinking

Consuming beer or other alcoholic beverages is prohibited on campus, including in University Housing. The legal age for the purchase and consumption of beer or any alcoholic beverage in Oklahoma is 21. Should a student choose not to comply with the policy, appropriate administrative disciplinary action will be imposed. STUDENTS MAY ALSO BE SUSPENDED FROM THE PROGRAM AND SENT HOME.

Driving under the influence of alcohol is a serious crime and offenders can be jailed for such an offense. Do not drive if you have been drinking alcoholic beverages.

Never have an open container of any alcoholic beverage in your car. If you must transport a container that has been opened, make sure the liquor is placed in the trunk of the car. Anytime you operate a vehicle and you are determined to be legally intoxicated by a police officer, you may be charged, fined, and/or taken to jail.
Illegal Drugs
The possession, use of, and/or attempt to sell illegal drugs such as marijuana ('pot'), PCP, cocaine, or any narcotics are strictly prohibited. Being convicted of drug crimes results in imprisonment and may be cause for deportation when the sentence (time served in prison) is completed.

Smoking
Smoking (and often other tobacco use such as chewing or vapor cigarettes) is prohibited in a number of public areas, including the OSU campus, stores, businesses, libraries, elevators, buses, planes, restaurants, churches, and doctors’ offices. In the United States a person must be 18 years or older to purchase and/or use tobacco products.

Disturbance
Disturbing the peace of the town, neighborhood, or family by making a loud or unusual noise, using abusive or profane language, quarreling, fighting, or shooting of firearms can result in an arrest by a police officer. If a person uses profane, violent, abusive, or insulting language toward or about another person, he or she can be found guilty of disturbing the peace and can be fined or imprisoned upon conviction.

Assault and Battery
Assault is an attempt to physically hurt someone and is a basis for civil action and criminal prosecution. Battery is the intentional touching of an individual, which causes physical injury. It is considered a criminal offense.

Guns and other weapons
Weapons are not allowed on campus. Possession of a weapon off-campus must comply with state laws.

Indecent Exposure
A person who exposes or assists anyone else in exposing his or her private parts in public, is guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, will be punished by a fine or imprisonment.
Harassment

Persons from different cultures can easily misunderstand the thoughts and gestures of another person, especially in a dating relationship. Please keep this in mind when you interpret someone else’s actions. For example, although American women may appear friendly, very few develop a relationship with a man quickly. If a man makes any kind of advance too early, his actions can result in a criminal charge being filed. In Oklahoma, the age of consent for sexual activity is 18. Being involved in consensual sexual activity with a minor (someone that is below the age of 18) is statutory rape. However, regardless of age, if a woman feels obliged to respond sexually against her will, she may believe she was threatened with rape and can make a legal complaint against the person initiating the threat. Do not assume anything.

Sexual harassment is a form of gender discrimination and is prohibited by law. For additional information on sexual harassment, refer to sexual harassment brochure. It is essential that you understand your rights and responsibilities as a student at OSU. Please visit the website: 1is2many.okstate.edu

Court System

In Stillwater, the District Court is responsible for most of the civil and criminal proceedings in Payne County. However, the Small Claims court can be used for civil matters involving claims up to $2,500 or a criminal offense that is a misdemeanor. If you must appear in court, but are uncomfortable speaking English, you may wish to take a native English-speaking friend with you to court. It is important to arrive on time. The District Court and Small Claims Court are both located in the Payne County Courthouse at 6th and Duncan streets.

For more detailed information on legal rights and public safety, please visit the OSU Police Department at: 1st floor USDA, Stillwater, OK. Phone (405) 744-6523 or check the website: http://www.osupd.okstate.edu
U.S. CUSTOMS AND CULTURE

Social Relations and Customs in the United States of America
The United States is a young country: many aspects of its social life are still changing, including religious beliefs, local customs, and moral values. Variety and diversity characterize the geographical area as well its peoples and their lifestyles.

It would be inaccurate to form an opinion of the United States by contact with just a few of its citizens, as people are extremely varied in their backgrounds. Despite this, the diverse peoples of this country are united by a feeling of shared nationality, a pride in country and its founding institutions, and a common conviction in democratic process. The most important political documents, the Declaration of Independence and The Constitution of the United States of America, emphasize freedom, equality, and the rights of the individual.

Some U.S. customs may seem mystifying at best, absolutely frustrating at worst. To help you avoid difficulties, possible embarrassment, misunderstanding, or miscommunication, some customs and behaviors are listed which you might encounter. Always remember to take nothing for granted: and do not assume that every U.S. national will respond exactly as described.

Clothing: Dress is relatively informal in the United States and you will see many different styles of attire on campus and at social events. ‘Informal’ or ‘casual’ indicated on an invitation usually means that you may wear the same type of clothing you wear to class: jeans or slacks and a sport shirt for men, a blouse or sweater and skirt, slacks or jeans for women. You may ask your hostess what to wear if the invitation does not specify. Your national dress is usually appropriate for most social occasions.

Conversation: Casual conversation between U.S. nationals can be confusing. For example, ‘How are you’? is not primarily an inquiry about your health, but rather a greeting such as ‘Good Morning’ or ‘Hello’. In response, you may simply answer ‘Fine, thank you. How are you?’ Phrases used when departing can be equally confusing. ‘See you later’, ‘Drop by sometime’, or ‘Let’s get together sometime’ are often meant as friendly good-byes, rather than actual invitations.

Upon first meeting, Americans may easily share information that might seem quite personal to you; however, some topics such as age and salary are usually avoided.
Dating: Dating customs vary across the United States and depend greatly on the individuals involved. A date may be as formal as an invitation to a dance, dinner, or movie, or as informal as a spontaneous offer for coffee, a drink at a bar, or a tennis game. Men still initiate most date invitations, but sometimes a woman will ask a man. Although the man usually pays for the expense of the date, many women now pay their own expenses. The custom of sharing expenses is called ‘dutch treat’ or ‘going dutch’. If the woman initiates the date, she typically pays the expenses. In the United States, people often begin dating in early adolescence.

Although dating is a common form of social activity in high school and college, it is not necessarily a serious matter. You may find that some individuals date many persons without commitment to anyone, while some maintain an exclusive relationship. And you may find some unmarried couples who live together. Some international students might believe that one or two dates establish a commitment, but this is seldom true for Americans. Even after several dates, no emotional attachment may be felt and no shared expectation for a common future may develop. Some couples go out together repeatedly on a ‘platonic’ basis, that is, just as friends.

In recent years, women in the United States have gained more equal stature in social relationships. Women can now have various types of relationships with different men, including friendships, which do not include romance or physical intimacy. The amount of commitment in any type of relationship depends on the mutual consent of the individuals involved. Women here expect honesty in a relationship, and they usually date several men before considering a long-term commitment or marriage.
The amount of physical contact between men and women usually depends on the amount of affection and trust they have developed for each other. Sexual attitudes, however, are in a state of change. This does not mean that U.S. women or men are promiscuous. Generally, a woman needs time to develop affectionate feelings towards a man, and if pressured to become too intimate too soon, may become offended, distant and angry. If you have questions about dating customs in the U.S., do not hesitate to ask a U.S. acquaintance.

Homosexuality is becoming more accepted in U.S. society; in some states, same-sex marriage is legal. You may see same-sex couples behaving affectionately in public. In general in Oklahoma, which is quite conservative, this is not very common, but you may experience this on the university campus (typically more ‘open’ or liberal). Tolerance is expected.

International students should be aware that U.S. movies and TV programs do not represent ‘typical’ social attitudes and behaviors of U.S. citizens. To understand accepted attitudes and behaviors, the international student is advised to observe people in the community objectively and to validate or refute these observations by talking with U.S. friends.

Friends: Different cultures value different forms of friendship and cultivate them in distinctive ways. The way people in the United States make and keep friendships can be perplexing for international students.

While a U.S. national may seem warm and friendly at first meeting, this does not mean an ongoing friendship is intended or a lasting relationship will result. A friendly greeting should not always be interpreted as a desire to get to know you better or even as a wish to see you again. Though the act of friendship may not be intended to extend beyond that one meeting, the friendliness is still meant to be sincere at the moment.

With friendships based on spontaneous feeling, rather than duty, tradition, or caste, persons in the U.S. move in and out of social groups. These groups often form around common interests such as leisure activities, schoolwork, employment, or places of residence.
As in most countries, close friendships grow from repeated interactions over time as individuals identify similar interests and projects, handle disagreements constructively, and share life experiences.

Informality: Most people in the United States interact informally, even with strangers and new acquaintances. People of all ages and levels of responsibility often treat each other with ease and friendliness. The lack of deference should not be interpreted as a lack of respect; rather, it is a manifestation of the ideal of equality, and individual independence, which is pervasive in the United States.

The use of first names (that is, given names) is a common practice, even on first meetings. As a general rule, it is appropriate to use first names with anyone your own age or younger. A person older or higher in status, who would normally be addressed in a formal manner (using ‘Mr.,’ ‘Ms.,’ or ‘Mrs.’) may invite you to use his or her first name; it is then permissible, but not necessary to do so.

Invitations: During your stay, you may be invited to a dinner, to an informal party at the home of a faculty member, host family, fellow student, or to some other kind of social occasion. The invitation may be either written or verbal. If verbal, you may accept or decline the invitation at the time that you receive it, or you may tell the person you will telephone later with your response. If the invitation is written or printed (as it is for weddings, teas, and other formal occasions), you are expected to reply by mail or telephone. Most written invitations will have ‘please reply’ in the lower corner of the invitation, or will request an answer by means of the notation ‘R.S.V.P’ (an abbreviation of a French expression meaning 'please respond'). It is impolite not to respond to indicate your intention to accept or decline.

Do not accept an invitation unless you really plan to go. If your plans change because of illness or unavoidable problems, be sure to tell your host as soon as possible. When you accept an invitation, be certain you understand where you are going and how to get there.
Meals: If you are invited for a meal and there are foods you do not eat, inform your host when you accept the invitation. This will help the host plan food and drink for everyone to enjoy together. If you must refuse something after it is prepared, do so politely. People in the United States generally eat three meals a day: breakfast, lunch, and dinner. For most, the biggest meal is the evening dinner. ‘Supper’ and ‘dinner’ generally refer to the same evening meal; supper is not just a snack. This meal is usually between 5:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., although dinner parties are often later.

Special Party Customs: ‘Bring a date or friend’ means that you may bring someone with you as your guest without telling your host. If you would like to bring a date or friend and the invitation does not mention this, be sure to ask the host if it is acceptable. ‘BYOL’ or ‘BYOB’ on an invitation means that you are expected to bring your own liquor/beer if you wish to drink an alcoholic beverage. Typically, the host will provide soft drinks, and the guests will bring ‘hard’ drinks (liquor) if they desire. In the United States, it is not necessary for a guest to take a gift to the host, although it is appreciated. Flowers, candy, or a souvenir from your home country are appropriate.

Promptness: It is very important in this culture to be on time. Public performances and ceremonies (weddings, funerals, church services, and the like) start promptly at the stated time. You should arrive at these functions five or ten minutes early.

When invited to lunch or dinner, you should arrive at the pre-arranged time neither earlier nor later. You usually are expected to stay at least an hour after the conclusion of the meal for conversation and pleasantries. An evening party typically lasts a total of two or three hours. This is not a rigid practice, however, and if your host urges you to stay longer and you are having fun, by all means accept. If an interval of time is stated (for instance: ‘from 3 to 5 p.m.’ or ‘from 5 to 7 p.m.’), it is acceptable to arrive anytime between the stated hours. One should leave within 30 minutes of the designated departure time, however.

You must be on time for all appointments with professors, doctors, and other professional persons. Sometimes emergencies may delay these professionals for as long as an hour and you may have to wait. If the delay creates a hardship for you, you may reschedule your appointment.

Telephoning: Except in emergencies, it is most polite to telephone after 8:00 a.m. and before 9:30 p.m.

Expressing Gratitude: A telephone call or short letter of thanks is appropriate after dinner engagements and especially after staying overnight with a host family or friends. Often only one word of appreciation as you leave is enough. You can determine which option is most appropriate by how well you know your hostess. A more formal relationship with your host makes written thanks more appropriate.

Gratuity/Tipping: Service charges or gratuities are rarely added to the bill in American hotels or restaurants, but are often expected and needed by the employees. Here are some general rules:

1. Do not tip anyone in a cafeteria or motel, or in any place where you provide your own service. You do not tip on buses or airplanes.
2. In a restaurant, the tip for the waiter or waitress is usually 15% of the total bill. In a hotel, the bellboy who takes you to your room usually gets $2.00 for each suitcase.
3. Groups of 6 or more will usually have a mandatory 18% gratuity included as part of the bill.

GESTURES IN THE UNITED STATES

A firm handshake, accompanied by direct eye contact, is the standard greeting in the United States. Occasionally, among very good friends who have not seen each other for long intervals, women may briefly hug other women, and men may quickly kiss the cheek of a woman. Males rarely hug one another, however. Occasionally, men may shake hands with the left hand either covering the handshake or lightly gripping the forearm.

Direct eye contact in both social and business situations is very important. Not doing so implies boredom or disinterest.
Americans generally respect queues and will form lines in an orderly fashion. To shove one’s way into such a line will probably generate both anger and verbal complaints.

Waving ‘hello’ or ‘goodbye’ is done by extending the arm, palm facing down and waving the hand up and down at the wrist joint. Another variation is to raise the arm, palm outward, and move the whole arm and hand back and forth like an upside down pendulum. This may be important to know because in many countries this is a signal for ‘no’.

There are two well-known insulting gestures in the United States. Both are recognized in all part of America. They are:

- The middle finger thrust
- The forearm jerk

Many Americans become uncomfortable with periods of silence. Therefore, in business or social situations, if a gap occurs they will quickly try to fill in with conversation.

Winking in America can send diverse messages: flirtation, friendliness, amusement or to signal ‘I am just kidding’.

When driving, automobiles are equipped with flashing lights as turning signals. If these are not operating, or if cyclists wish to signal for a turn, the proper procedure is as follows: extend the left arm straight out of the driver’s window to mean ‘I plan to turn left’, and bend the arm upward to signal ‘I plan to turn right’.

Beckoning can be done by either raising the index finger or repeatedly curling it in and out, or by raising the hand (palm facing inward) and waggling the fingers back toward the body. Either is acceptable.

To call a waiter, just raise one hand to head level or above. To signal that you want the check, make a writing motion with two hands (one hand representing the paper, the other making a writing motion).

When dining, many Americans are taught to keep their left hand in their lap and eat with the right hand. It is permissible to sit at a table with both wrists resting lightly on the table. When engaged in deep, close conversation, two people might even lean forward, with elbows on the table, but strict practitioners of etiquette in America frown on this.

It is considered impolite to use toothpicks in front of other people.

It has become an important courtesy in the United States to ask permission of your host or hostess before smoking.
